Q1 2026 Fund Commentary

Commentary and opinions are provided by Canada Life.

Market commentary

Both headline and core inflation started to migrate lower during the first quarter, moving closer to the 2% mid-point of the target band. March inflation data isn't yet available and may reflect the impacts of higher oil prices and associated price pressures following the conflict in Iran.

The breakeven curve (representing the yield difference between nominal bonds and inflation-linked bonds of similar maturity) remained relatively stable in the first two months of the quarter but moved higher in March, driven by the front end, leaving the breakeven curve slightly inverted. This reflects the immediate impact of higher oil prices and associated effects on inflation expectations.

Performance

An overweight allocation to provincial inflation-linked bonds was the largest contributor to performance during the first quarter. The sub-advisor has maintained this allocation because of the scarcity of the product and the additional yield it provides the portfolio. Provincial inflation-linked bonds outperformed federal inflation-linked bonds during the quarter.

An underweight allocation to Government of Canada Real Return Bond (4.25% due 2026) contributed to performance. This security underperformed both the federal sector and the overall index during the quarter.

Selection within provincial inflation-linked bonds detracted from performance. The sub-advisor holds an overweight allocation to Province of Quebec bonds, which underperformed provincial inflation-linked bonds as a whole during the quarter.

Province of Quebec (4.25% due 2026) detracted from performance. The sub-advisor holds an overweight allocation to this security, which underperformed the index as a whole during the quarter.

Portfolio activity

No new positions were added during the quarter. No positions were actively increased, although provincial exposure passively increased as client withdrawals were completed using the Fund's federal holdings. No positions were sold during the quarter. The sub-advisor reduced positions equally across the curve in response to client withdrawals.

Outlook

The sub-advisor plans to continue tactically managing the fund's duration and positioning in conjunction with the sub-advisor's view on interest rates.
